

Vision PLUS Computer User Questionnaire

After working at the computer for some period of time, you may be experiencing a variety of symptoms by directly looking at your computer screen, i.e. headaches, tired eyes, or exhaustion after a day at work. If you notice any of these visual problems, please rate them accordingly.

Symptom	Mild	Moderate	Severe
Headaches during or after working at the computer	_____	_____	_____
Overall bodily fatigue or tiredness	_____	_____	_____
Distance vision becomes blurry after computer use	_____	_____	_____
Burning eyes	_____	_____	_____
Dry, tired or sore eyes	_____	_____	_____
Double vision	_____	_____	_____
Squinting helps when looking at the computer	_____	_____	_____
Letters seem to run together	_____	_____	_____
Driving/night vision is worse	_____	_____	_____
“Halos” appear around objects on the screen	_____	_____	_____
Need to interrupt work frequently to rest eyes	_____	_____	_____

If you feel any of these symptoms, the Doctor can tell you about a new type of eyewear lens that can eliminate the symptoms and dramatically improve your comfort level when working on a computer. These lenses result from a new vision testing technology developed specifically for computer users.

Please give this questionnaire to the Doctor for an explanation of how these lenses work!
